Our Big News

Lucky to be honored

Gannon's own Joe Luckey will be among those honored at this year's Scholarship Celebration Nov. 4.

Longtime employee Luckey will be joined by the Kermit R. Allison Family and the Sisters of St. Joseph of Northwestern Pennsylvania as honorees, who will be presented with the university's Archbishop Gannon Medal of Distinction.

A black-tie event, the Scholarship Celebration is an evening recognizing the personal leadership, academic quality and fine arts of Catholic higher education. The event serves as a fund-raiser for student scholarships.

The Archbishop Medal of Distinction is presented each year to individuals who have been instrumental in promoting the cause of Catholic higher education.

The event will begin at 6 p.m. Nov. 4 in the Waldron Campus Center.

The Gannon Community is invited to attend the fund-raiser at a special rate of $65 per person. Regular cost is $125 per person. RSVP to Cathy Fresch, director of Alumni Services, at ext. 5842.

Our house is their house

Gannon University will host its annual Fall Open House Nov. 5.

Prospective students and their families can attend presentations on admissions and financial aid, meet with faculty, administrators and coaches, and tour the campus.

Registration will be from 11:30 a.m. to noon in the Waldron Campus Center, and a welcome presentation will begin at 12:15 p.m. in the Hammermill Center. The Open House will continue throughout the afternoon until 4 p.m.

For more information, call Gannon's Office of Admissions at ext. 7240.

Our Notes

Commuter Awareness Day

Gannon will observe Commuter Awareness Day Oct. 25.

The day is the main programming event of the Office of Commuter Services and is designed to achieve several outcomes: ♦Recognize commuter students and bring attention to their special needs. ♦Spotlight the locations and services of various campus offices and places. ♦Promote interaction between commuter students and the Gannon Community.

Faculty, staff and administrators can make commuter students matter by: ♦Recognizing the diversity within the student population. ♦Asking commuter students what they perceive their needs to be. ♦Reviewing your out-of-classroom course requirements. ♦Encouraging inclusive campus opportunities and traditions.

Artists among us

The Schuster Art Gallery once again will present the Annual Faculty/ Student Art Show Jan. 22 through Feb. 23, and entries are due by Nov. 1.

This show has been a huge success in the past, and the demands of another show are growing. Digital photography, watercolor, oil and clay are just a sample of what has been shown before.

If you are an artist, please enter your work (up to three pieces) to share your talents with the Gannon Community and keep this tradition alive.

Anyone interested in exhibiting work should contact Lisa Campbell in the Office of Student Organizations and Leadership Development, ext. 7332, to reserve a space. Deadline for entries is Nov. 1, so act fast.

Merry Christmas

Mark your calendars! The holiday season is fast approaching, and that means the Gannon Christmas Party!

Once again, the event will kick off the holiday season on the first Saturday of December, which is Dec. 2 this year. Watch your mailboxes in the coming weeks for an invitation, and make your plans now to join your colleagues at Rainbow Gardens for this fun holiday gathering.

Being civil

Gannon University supports the Civility Counts campaign, a 14-week campaign in schools, churches, businesses and the community led by the Millennium Commission.

Throughout the rest of 2000, each week will feature a theme to remind us that civility counts. Watch Under the Arch each week for a new theme. This week's theme: Be Courteous.

See more on civility at www.GoErie.com/together2000, or at <http://2000.erie.net>.
