#MAKECHANGE: STAND UP. SPEAK OUT.

Inspired by the anniversary of U.S. women’s right to vote, the College of Humanities, Education, and Social Sciences is encouraging you to speak out. This year-long series will describe and encourage advocacy. Events are Free and Open to the Public.

Islam and Hip Hop: A Conversation with Dr. Amer F. Ahmed

Monday, Sept. 23 at 7 p.m. | Yehl Ballroom | Gannon University

Dr. Ahmed will explore the political and social impact of Hip Hop across Muslim populations around the world. This art form has served as a voice for expression and empowerment for youth in U.S. inner city communities and schools. Dr. Ahmed will draw historical connections between the Black oral tradition of rhythmic storytelling and the rise of Muslim artists in hip hop such as Mos Def, Jurassic 5, A Tribe Called Quest, Brother Ali, and Lupe Fiasco. Sponsored by CHESS, Global Support & Student Engagement and SGA.

AAUW Hosts: The Progressive Era and Suffrage: How Reform Drove the Vote

Saturday, Oct. 12 at 1 p.m. | Palumbo Academic Center

Gannon University

The American Association of University Women hosts historian Elizabeth Garner Masarik of the University of Buffalo. Enjoy her presentation and ask questions regarding the Progressive Era and Suffrage and learn about “How Reform Drove the Vote.”

Global Summit XI

Monday, Oct. 28 - Friday, Nov. 15

Gannon, the Jefferson Educational Society, and other community partners are co-hosting the Global Summit XI. The summit will run October 28-November 15 and features a number of influential figures. You can hear from, meet, and speak to some of the world’s most important voices in politics, current events, and international affairs. For more information, please visit jeserie.org. The speakers who will be coming to Gannon are:

- Former Secretary of Defense Chuck Hagel “An Evening with Chuck Hagel”
  Monday, Nov. 4 at 7:30 p.m. | Yehl Ballroom | Gannon University

- Former White House Press Secretary and Communications Director Sean Spicer “The Briefing: Politics, the Press, and the President”
  Wednesday, Nov. 6 at 7:30 p.m. | Yehl Ballroom | Gannon University

- Washington Post columnist George Will “An Evening with George Will”
  Thursday, Nov. 7 at 7:30 p.m. | Hammermill Center | Gannon University

- Media panel made up of Mary Katharine Ham, Karen Tumulty and Alexi McCammond (moderated by Steve Scully) “Campaign 2020: Trump, the Democrats and Road to the White House”
  Monday, Nov. 11 at 7:30 p.m. | Yehl Ballroom | Gannon University

- Author and columnist Michael Smerconish “American Life in Columns”
  Tuesday, Nov. 12 at 7:30 p.m. | Yehl Ballroom | Gannon University

Almost, Maine by John Mariani

Sept. 26, 27, 28
Oct. 3, 4, 5, 6

Wyrd Sisters by John Cariani

Nov. 21, 22, 23

Iconic Works on Paper: a selection from the Gerald and Suzanne Marterer Collection

Oct. 1-11

Featuring works of art by Dali and Munch, among others.

Gannon Arts

Oct. 12 - Nov. 1

Visual Gifts: Photo Competition Reception

Dec. 6 at 6 p.m.

Blessed are the Peacemakers: Pacifism, Just War, and Peacebuilding (2019)

Nov. 14 at 7 p.m.

Yehl Ballroom | Gannon University

Dr. Lisa Sowle Cahill, Professor at Boston College

The College of Humanities, Education, and Social Sciences offers a broad range of academic programs that develop essential skills in critical thinking, public speaking, impactful writing, and collaboration. Students participate in hands-on learning experiences including local, regional, and national internships as well as study abroad. Graduates are prepared for fulfilling careers across numerous disciplines and professional settings.

For more information or to apply, visit gannon.edu